APPENDIX A

To prevent collisions, remember ...

Always keep a good lookout.

At all times proceed at a safe speed so that proper and effective action to avoid a collision can be taken.

Allow that bigger vessels may not be as manoeuvrable as you.

Power driven vessels underway must always keep clear of sailing vessels.

Overtaking boat keeps clear.

Vessel being overtaken holds course and speed; but see Rule 22.8.5.

Regardless of who has right of way, all boats should take appropriate action to avoid collision.

Extracts from the International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea.

Rule 22.6	Safe Speed. Every vessel must at all times proceed at a safe speed so that proper and effective action to avoid a collision can be taken and the vessel can be stopped within a distance appropriate to the prevailing circumstances and conditions.
Rule 22.8.5	Action to avoid collision. If necessary to avoid collision or allow more time to assess the situation, a vessel shall slacken its speed or take all way off by stopping or reversing its means of propulsion.
Rule 22.13.1	Overtaking. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Rules of this section, any vessel overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the vessel being overtaken.
Rule 22.13.2	Overtaking. A vessel shall be considered to be overtaking when coming up on another vessel from a direction of more than 22.5 degrees abaft its beam, that is, in such a position where at night the sternlight, but neither of the sidelights of the vessel being overtaken, would be visible.
Rule 22.13.3	Overtaking. When a vessel is in any doubt as to whether it is overtaking another, it must assume that it is and act accordingly.
Rule 22.13.4	Overtaking. Any alteration of the bearing between vessels shall not make the overtaking vessel a crossing vessel within the meaning of these rules nor relieve her of the duty of keeping clear until she is finally past and clear.

Rule 22.14	Head-on Situation. When two power-driven vessels are meeting on reciprocal or nearly reciprocal courses so as to involve risk of collision, each must alter its course to starboard so that each passes on the port side of the other.
Rule 22.15	Crossing Situation. When two power-driven vessels are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on its own starboard side must keep out of the way. The vessel required to keep out of the way must, if the circumstances of the case allow, avoid crossing ahead of the other vessel.
Rule 22.17	Action by (stand-on) vessel with right of way. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>i) If one of the 2 vessels is to keep out of the way, the other must keep its course and speed.</li> <li>ii) When from any cause, the stand-on vessel with right of way finds itself so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the give-way vessel alone, it must take whatever action will best avoid collision.</li> </ul>
Rule 22.18	Responsibilities between vessels. A power-driven vessel underway must keep out of the way of a sailing vessel or a vessel under oars.
